For four consecutive years, CITGO has been Presenting Sponsor of our signature fundraiser, Moonlight in the Gardens, which originated in 2007. THANK YOU!

As Hurricanes Katrina and Rita inflicted significant damage to the Gulf Coast region in 2005, CITGO employees were among the first to respond, supplying needed aid to first responders, non-profit organizations and evacuees. These hurricanes redefined how we give back, and what we focus on. Today, through our CITGO Caring for Our Coast initiative, we support environmental restoration efforts along the Gulf Coast. To date, CITGO has carried out restoration projects for natural habitats in areas close to our operations, particularly those in the Gulf of Mexico. Through these projects: 5,100 acres of land have been restored, more than 420,000 plants and trees have been planted and more than 10,800 pounds of garbage collected. Most recently, following the aftermath of Hurricane Harvey, CITGO donated $500,000 to the Mayor Joe McComb Disaster Relief Fund to assist local authorities in providing services to those impacted, as well as 5,000 gallons of fuel and food supplies to the Rockport community.
